

why slow motion?

Slow cooking brings out the ultimate flavour in food, retains the nutrients and gives it the right texture

At The Slow Motion Kitchen this is at the heart of what we do. We bring you the age-old 'dum' style of cooking. Our recipes are classics and timeless amalgamations of right ingredients, techniques and impeccable talent of different Khansama's from around the country who are true to their craft.

It's why our Nihari is braised for hours to get that rich unforgettable flavour. And the Dal Makhni is left overnight on slow amber to give it a smoky flavour.

We take pride in cooking every dish from scratch with traditional techniques. Just give us time and we will cook dishes that will linger in your memory long after you have polished the last bite.
